PLZ Corp Highlights Private Label Cooking Spray & Oil Capabilities at PLMA 2026

CHICAGO — November 15, 2026 — At the PLMA Store Brands Marketplace, November 15–17 in Chicago, PLZ Corp, a North American leader in specialty aerosol and liquid manufacturing, will showcase the end-to-end capabilities that help retailers launch high-quality, differentiated private label products. Visit PLZ - Food Products at Booth #F9235.

PLZ helps retail brand managers capitalize on demand for cooking sprays and edible oils with a turnkey, one-stop approach spanning custom formulation, regulatory guidance, packaging design, warehousing, distribution, and customer-supplied-material programs.

Its flexible contract manufacturing includes traditional aerosol, Bag-on-Valve (BOV), and liquid filling capabilities. With formats ranging from 5oz retail cans to liquid squeeze bottles, PLZ can support diverse product concepts and scale programs as they grow.

“We're seeing significant opportunities for retailers to grow their private label cooking spray and oil portfolios, particularly as consumers continue to look for high-quality products at a better value," said Tim Cash, VP & General Manager, Food Products at PLZ Corp. "Our focus is on making it easier for customers to bring those products to market. Whether it's traditional aerosol, Bag-on-Valve, or specialty oils, we have the capabilities, expertise, and capacity to help retailers move quickly, differentiate their offerings, and scale as their business grows."

PLZ’s dedicated SQF and FDA-registered facility in St. Clair, Missouri holds Kosher, Halal, and product-specific Organic certifications. Its portfolio includes cooking and baking sprays, food-release products, and specialty oils such as extra virgin olive, pure olive, and avocado oil. Independent testing for oil identity and purity helps verify authenticity and gives retail partners greater confidence in product quality and supply chain integrity.

Retail buyers and category managers can visit Booth #F9235 to discuss custom product development, packaging options, and scalable manufacturing solutions for cooking spray and edible oil assortments.

Media Opportunity at PLMA 2026

Trade media, food industry journalists, and retail analysts are invited to visit PLZ at Booth #F9235 for interviews or technical briefings on private label trends, turnkey manufacturing, flexible production, and ingredient verification. To schedule an on-site media briefing or request technical capabilities documentation, contact:
