Jessica Pastries Brings Cake Balls and Ube Innovation to PLMA Chicago 2026

Canadian family-owned dessert manufacturer to showcase premium frozen desserts and private label capabilities at Booth F1325.

MONTRÉAL, QUÉBEC — Jessica Pastries, a family-owned Canadian manufacturer of premium frozen desserts, will exhibit at PLMA's 2026 Private Label Trade Show in Rosemont, Illinois, November 15–17.

Founded in 2000, Jessica Pastries brings more than 25 years of dessert manufacturing experience to retail, foodservice and private label partnerships. This year, the company is placing particular emphasis on its cake balls—bite-sized desserts offered in a variety of flavours and finishes.

Cake Balls Take Centre Stage

Among the flavours attracting attention this year is ube, known for its distinctive purple colour and appeal in globally inspired desserts. Alongside cake balls, visitors can explore Jessica Pastries' signature mousse cakes, cheesecakes, individual desserts and seasonal creations.

Private Label Partnerships

Jessica Pastries works with retailers and business partners to develop frozen desserts that combine craftsmanship, product innovation and commercial practicality.

Meet Jessica Pastries at PLMA

Buyers, retailers and private label partners are invited to visit Booth F1325 on November 15–17 to sample the collection and discuss potential collaborations.

Quote

"For more than 25 years, our passion has been creating desserts that bring people together. PLMA is an opportunity to introduce our latest innovations and build meaningful partnerships with retailers looking for quality and differentiation."
