Danielson Food Products Showcases Clean Label Meat Products at 2026 PLMA Trade show

Chicago, IL – November 2026 - Danielson Food Products, a fourth-generation, family-owned, veteran-owned meat producer known for its authentic Mexican-style chorizo and custom meat blends, is proud to return to the 2026 PLMA Private Label Trade Show. Building on the strong success of the clean label products introduced at last year's PLMA shows, the company will highlight its latest innovations and core product portfolio from Booth F9428 in the Sky Hall.

This year, Danielson is spotlighting standout products that reflect its commitment to clean-label, flavorful, and high-quality meat solutions without compromising on authentic taste:

- Chorizo Verde
- Clean Label Chorizo
- Chicken Italian Sausage
- Clean Label Pork Sausage
- Ground Al Pastor
- Beef and Turkey Hot Links

The clean label chorizo and pork sausage lines introduced in 2025 continue to resonate with consumers seeking cleaner ingredients and authentic flavor, and are now stocked by retailers specializing in premium clean label products. Building on that momentum, the new Chorizo Verde brings a vibrant, herbaceous Chef created, Mexican-inspired flavor profile - crafted with fresh green ingredients - to private label and custom programs. Alongside the return of popular hot links in both beef and turkey varieties, these products reinforce Danielson's proven clean-label technology that delivers extended refrigerated shelf life without the use of synthetic ingredients.

Key features of Danielson's clean label approach include:

- No synthetic nitrites or nitrates
- No MSG, fillers, artificial ingredients, or animal by-products
- Gluten-free, hormone-free, antibiotic-free, and non-GMO
- 100% natural, minimally processed
- Extended refrigerated shelf life

"We are excited to continue the momentum from last year's successful clean label introductions and showcase our expanding portfolio at PLMA 2026, including the innovative Chorizo Verde and the return of our hot links," said Jeff Danielson, VP of Danielson Food Products. "Our customers continue to seek bold flavors and cleaner labels that deliver on quality and convenience. With our SQF-certified facility and decades of expertise in private labeling, custom recipes, and co-packing, we help retailers and brands meet growing demand for better-for-you meat products."

Visitors are invited to experience the bold flavors and flexible solutions that define Danielson Food Products. The company specializes in authentic chorizo varieties, specialty sausages, and tailored private label services including custom recipes, blending, co-packing, and packaging. These offerings empower retailers, distributors, and foodservice providers with premium products and modern innovations backed by a family legacy dating to 1939.
